Right Now Resource

Have you ever had a question that you needed an answer to right away and there was no one around to ask? Now there is an online resource for you to utilize in just this type of situation. Go to www.class.umn.edu/faq.html and look for the answer to your question. You can browse already asked questions or ask your own. While this is a great tool to use to get a quick answer to your questions, always remember to check with your academic adviser to confirm the information.

Academic Probation Help

If you are a student who is on probation, now is the time to be proactive by making an appointment with your academic adviser. It is best to formulate a plan for success early in the semester so you have a guide to follow throughout the semester. During your appointment with your advisor you will talk about strategies to help you keep in good academic standing at the university. Your advisor will also provide you with resources that are designed to promote academic success.

It is also important to meet with your advisor so they can move your registration hold forward to allow you to register for summer and fall courses. Please make an appointment today, your advisor is here to help. Call 612-626-7707 to make an appointment.

Spotlight On: Disabled Student Cultural Center

The Disabled Student Cultural Center is a student organization that promotes awareness of and strives to create a welcoming environment for people with disabilities. The DSCC works with the campus community and the surrounding Twin Cities community to encourage understanding and knowledge about the issues that face people with disabilities. They hope to foster an environment that is comfortable for all students, staff and the surrounding community.

There are volunteer opportunities available for students who would like to learn more about what the DSCC is all about. Volunteer commitments are flexible and will work around your school and work schedule. Volunteers help with planning events and programs or helping out in the office.

The adaptive sports club is also a great way to get involved. You do not have to have a disability to participate, all are encouraged to join. This is a wonderful opportunity to enjoy your favorite sports in a whole new way. For more information about the DSCC please visit their website at <http://www.tc.umn.edu/~dsc/>

The DSCC is open Mon-Fri 9-5pm and you can contact them at (612) 624-2602 (V/TTY) or dsc@umn.edu

Peace Crimes

1970. Three years after the Summer of Love, the Vietnam War goes full tilt with no end in sight. Thousands of young men are drafted each month through lotteries at their local Selective Service office; for every 1,000 men drafted, approximately 234 are killed or wounded in the conflict. A handful of young men, including college students and a theologian from the Newman Center at the U of M, are busted by the FBI for raiding draft board offices across the state. Dubbed the "Minnesota Eight" by the press, they are tried for conspiracy, convicted and sent to federal prison. Were their crimes heroic acts of civil disobedience or acts of terrorism? Patriotism or treason? "Peace crimes" or just crimes?
